PSHE and Citizenship Policy

Value Statement

Collingbourne C of E Primary School values the PSHE and Citizenship policy because:

- It contributes to the development of the whole child emotionally, aesthetically, spiritually, intellectually and socially.
- It provides pupils with a unique way of perceiving themselves and the world, which is not always taught in other areas of the curriculum and which is essential to basic education.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

We believe that education in PSHE and citizenship enables children to become healthier, more independent and more responsible members of society. We encourage our pupils to play a positive role in contributing to the life of the school and the wider community. In so doing, we help to develop their sense of self-worth. We teach them how society is organised and governed. We ensure that the children experience the process of democracy through participation in the school council. We teach children about their rights and about their responsibilities. They learn to appreciate what it means to be a positive member of a diverse and multi-cultural society. Indeed, the teaching of PSHE and citizenship helps in many ways to meet the objectives set out in The Children's Act 2004 ('Every Child Matters') – that children 'be healthy, stay safe, enjoy and achieve, make a positive contribution, and achieve economic well-being'.

Our objectives in the teaching of PSHE and citizenship are for all of our children:

- to know and understand what is meant by a healthy lifestyle;
- to be aware of safety issues;
- to understand what makes for good relationships with others;
- to have respect for others;
- to be thoughtful and responsible members of their community and their school;
- to become active members of our democratic society;
- to develop self-confidence and self-esteem;
- to make informed choices regarding personal and social issues;
- to develop good relationships with other members of the community.

TEACHING AND LEARNING STYLE

We use a range of teaching and learning styles to meet the PSHE and citizenship requirements of the National Curriculum. We emphasise active learning by including the children in discussions, investigations and problem-solving activities. We encourage the children to take part in a range of tasks that promote active citizenship, e.g. charity fundraising for Wiltshire Air Ambulance or involvement in helping other individuals or groups less fortunate than themselves e.g. donating food to the Trussell Trust at Harvest Festival or at Christmas. We organise classes in such a way that pupils are able, through discussion, to set agreed classroom rules of behaviour, and resolve any conflicts. We offer children the opportunity to hear visiting speakers, such as health workers, police and local clergy, whom we invite into the school to talk about their role in creating a positive and supportive local community. Our 'Collingbourne Passport' provides motivation for children to participate in a variety of school and community experiences.

Throughout the school, our school values are encouraged and celebrated with gems representing each value. Children can be 'awarded' with a gem if they display one of the values and this is then celebrated during times of Collective Worship.

PSHE AND CITIZENSHIP CURRICULUM PLANNING

We teach PSHE and citizenship in a variety of ways. Sometimes, e.g. when dealing with issues in drugs education, we teach PSHE and citizenship as a discrete subject. On other occasions, we introduce PSHE and citizenship topics through teaching in other subjects. For example, when teaching about local environmental issues in geography, we offer pupils the opportunity to look at traffic in the local area and to think about local land use e.g. the skate park on the recreational ground. Also, as there is a large overlap between the programme of study for religious education and the aims of PSHE and citizenship, we deliver a considerable amount of the PSHE and citizenship curriculum through our religious education lessons.

We also develop PSHE and citizenship through various activities and whole-school events, e.g. the school council representatives from each year meet regularly to discuss school matters. We offer residential visits in Key Stage 2, alongside weekly Forest School sessions for Years one to six; where there is a particular focus on developing pupils' self-esteem, and giving them opportunities to develop leadership skills and positive group work. AG&T pupils are offered courses attended by other pupils from across the County by the local authority in the areas which they show greater depth.

THE FOUNDATION STAGE

We teach PSHE and citizenship in reception classes as an integral part of our topic work. As the reception class is part of the Foundation Stage of the National Curriculum, we relate the PSHE and citizenship aspects of the children's work to the objectives set out in the Early Learning Goals (ELGs). Our teaching in PSHE and citizenship matches the aim of developing a child's personal, emotional and social development as set out in the ELGs. We also support citizenship education in reception classes, when we teach 'how to develop a child's knowledge and understanding of the world'.

PSHE AND CITIZENSHIP AND ICT

ICT makes a contribution to the teaching of PSHE and citizenship in that children in ICT classes learn to work together in a collaborative manner. They also develop a sense of global citizenship by using the Internet. Through discussion of safety and other issues related to electronic communication, the children develop their own view about the use and misuse of ICT, and they also gain an insight into the interdependence of ICT users around the world.

PSHE AND CITIZENSHIP AND INCLUSION

We teach PSHE and citizenship to all children, regardless of their ability. Our teachers provide learning opportunities matched to the individual needs of children with learning difficulties. Intervention through School Support (SS) will lead to the creation of an Individual Education Plan (IEP). Further intervention in the form of a 'my support plan' (MSP) may be appropriate. When teaching PSHE and citizenship, teachers take into account the targets set for the children in their IEPs, some of which targets may be directly related to PSHE and citizenship objectives.

For gifted and talented pupils, teachers will provide additional opportunities to take responsibility, develop leadership skills, think creatively and use their talents for the good of the class or the wider community.

ASSESSMENT FOR LEARNING

Our teachers assess the children's work in PSHE and citizenship both by making informal judgements, as they observe them during lessons, and through formal assessments of the work done, gauging it against the specific learning objectives set out in the National Curriculum. We have clear expectations of what the pupils will know, understand and be able to do at the end of each Key Stage.

Our teachers record the achievements of pupils in PSHE and citizenship. We report these achievements to parents and carers each year in our reports. Teachers annotate planning to show how the children achieve in lessons.

RESOURCES

We keep resources for PSHE and citizenship in a central store, in topic boxes for each unit of work. Our PSHE and citizenship coordinator holds a selection of reference materials for teaching sensitive issues.

MONITORING AND REVIEW

The coordination of the teaching in PSHE is the responsibility of the PSHE subject leader, who also:

- supports colleagues in their teaching, by keeping informed about current developments in the subject, and by providing a strategic lead and direction for PSHE;
- gives the headteacher an annual summary report in which s/he evaluates the strengths and weaknesses in the subject, and indicates areas for further improvement;
- uses specially allocated, regular management time to review evidence of the children's work and to observe PSHE lessons across the school.

The quality of teaching and learning in PSHE is monitored and evaluated by the subject leader and the headteacher as part of the school's agreed cycle of lesson observations.
